CHILDREN CAUSE HEAVY FIRE LOSS

Fire Marshal Says Annual Loss
From This Source Amounts to More Than $200,000.

Special Columbus Correspondent.
Columbus, Aug. 16.—The state fire marshal's department has become alarmed over the prevalence of fires caused by children. During the past month they have caused more than $15,000 of fire loss. The department is investigating every fire started by children, and is having the children brought into juvenile court with their parents, who are given to understand that if they do not exercise proper supervision over them they will be placed in some institution. Last week two Columbus boys, one aged six and the other seven, frankly told how they fire a barn. The week before three Toledo boys did the same thing, and in Piqua a 13-year-old girl fired three buildings. A nine-year-old Gallon boy burned two buildings because of pique. Matches in the hands of children caused scores of other fires during the past few weeks. "Keep closer watch on your children and help us to prevent fires," is the appeal the department makes to parents. Juvenile fires cause an annual loss of more than $200,000 in Ohio.

Author of Local Option Law Ill.
Ex-Senator I. N. Rose, author of the famous Rose local option law, which was wiped from the statutes by the constitutional amendment of two years ago, in incurably ill at his home near Beverly, Washington county. He is suffering from a stroke of paralysis and also a recent heat prostration attack. He is hardly able to talk. His brother, M. M. Rose, member of the state liquor license commission, has just returned from visiting him. The ex-senator is a Civil war veteran. He was a prisoner at Andersonville. The famous Rose law was enacted after a hard fight ten years ago. Andrew L. Harris was lieutenant governor and presiding officer of the senate when it was put through. He made it possible for the dyes to pass the measure.

Newman Suspects Conspiracy.
J. H. Newman is not inclined to drop the inquiry into the reason for the omission of his name from the ballots in several of the counties as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for secretary of state. He says that if the omission had occurred in a single county, or if other candidates at this election or any other had ever suffered a similar unfortunate experience, he could credit the matter to an accident, but he cannot understand how he alone came to be the victim and that he suffered it not only in one county but four. Much as he would like to overlook the matter he says he is forced to suspect a conspiracy against him.

War-time Telegrapher Dead.
George K. Smith, one of the few surviving telegraphers who were employed with the Union forces during the Civil war, is dead here, aged 72 years. He was a native of Hardwick, Vt., but came to Columbus in his boyhood and learned telegraphy here. During the war he was employed as a war department code operator with Gen. Crooks. After the war he was engaged as a commercial operator and office manager here. His last employment was as the manager of the Postal branch at the Chillicothe hotel here.

Refugee to Accept Child.
C. V. Williams, head of the child welfare bureau of the state board of charities, has taken up with Gov. Willis the refusal of Dr. W. R. Pritchard, superintendent of the Columbus State hospital, to accept Raymond Woods, a seven-year-old Columbus boy, found to be insane. Williams says there can be no question about the insanity of the boy. He is at present held at the Columbus Detention Home for Juveniles.

Nomination Cost $3,000.
Gen. D. A. Hollingsworth's expenditure of nearly $3,000 in his successful campaign for renomination for congress in the 18th district, composed of Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Harrison and Carroll counties, is the largest sum spent in the recent campaign by any congressional aspirant.

Will Meet in Port Clinton.
The summer meeting of the Ohio State Horticultural society was held with the fruit growers of Ottawa county at Port Clinton today. Addresses were made by C. E. Gerner, J. L. King, Paul Thayer, R. A. Gill and A. D. Shelby.

Ohio Man Killed at Front.
Norwalk, O., Aug. 16.—"Killed in action" was the scribbled message on the face of an envelope returned from England to Probate Judge A. E. Rowley, who had written the letter to C. L. Whitely, in response to a request for a copy of his birth record. Whitely, 26, was a member of a Canadian cavalry troop. He left this city to enlist.

Woman Dropped Dead.
Marysville, O., Aug. 16.—Mrs. James Legge, 60, wife of a prominent citizen of Mechanicsburg, dropped dead from heart disease at Maple Grove cemetery as she alighted from an automobile.

Hughes in Northwest.
Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—Charles E. Hughes told two big audiences in Seattle and Tacoma that he would not shrink war if it came through the performance of an obvious duty. With this declaration he coupled a plea for international agencies which will encompass a lasting peace.

Hurt in Runaway.
Delaware, O., Aug. 16.—Mrs. A. Richardson was horribly injured in a runaway. A wire became entangled in the wheel and the noise frightened the horse.

Former Newspaper Man Dies.
Cleveland, Aug. 16.—Ralph D. Williams, 48, former Cleveland newspaper man and marine writer, is dead at Vermilion.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

—Monday the first car was run over the new trolley line between Leavittsburg and Warren. The road runs to Ravenna and Alliance and has the M. V. for a connection at Warren.

—Hugh Douglas, a civil war veteran 82 years old, walked on the B. & O. track in Warren last Saturday afternoon and was struck by a train. He sustained some distance and his injuries caused death Monday morning.

—At the election last week Tuesday Milton township voted down the proposition to issue $17,500 in bonds for a centralized school building by a vote of 69 to 45. Beloit defeated a $5,000 issue to complete its grade and high school 62 to 30. Boardman voted 192 to 108 in favor of a $15,000 issue to be used in addition to $30,000 already authorized for new buildings in Boardman.

—A man upon entering politics should bear in mind the fact that he is bound to be criticised and censured whatever his course may be. One who can not submit to criticism should never get into the political game. No matter how honest and sincere a man may be in conducting the affairs of his office there will be people to discredit his work and motives. The sensitive man has a hard row in public life.

—Mrs. Sarah Morgan near Calcutta, Columbiana county, who is 101 years old, is believed to be the only woman in the state who is a great-great-grandmother. Six generations, five of them her descendants, are living at this time. Mrs. Morgan lives two miles northeast of Calcutta in St. Clair township. She is in good health and does many household duties. Five of the seven children born to Mrs. Morgan are still living.

—A veteran of the civil war recalls the fact that when he enlisted for three months' service in response to President Lincoln's first call for 75,000 volunteers in 1861, the soldier's pay was $3 a month, no provision was made for the care of his dependent family, and if any employer promised to hold an enlisted man's position open for him till his return, such instances were very few and far between. Now men quitting positions are told that their positions will be restored to them, and in many cases their pay as employees in various vocations in which they are engaged at the time of enlistment is not stopped, but goes on. The pay of an enlisted man is now $15 a month, and he enjoys many comforts and luxuries that the "boys" who fought in the civil war never dreamed of possessing.—Ex.

Stigmatize originally meant simply to brand, and in the days of Shakespeare a farmer was said to stigmatize his sheep.
